

Machikado Museum Project

We will introduce a wide variety of cultural treasures of the Chuo City handed down for 400 years from the Edo Period

Chuo City is a historic city famous for its long history and traditions which has thrived as a center of Japanese cultures, commerce, industries and information. In spite of its small size, it is full of historically attractive sites and landmarks including "Nihonbashi"; a famous bridge which is a starting point of the Edo Five Highways, "Ginza"; a world's well-known shopping area, "Kabutocho"; Japan's Wall Street, "Tsukiji"; a center of Japanese food culture, "Tsukuda" and "Tsukishima"; rich waterfront areas. With these attractive sites, Chuo City has flourished from the Edo Period as a vibrant and dynamic community where people gather.

Over the past 400 years, Chuo City has cherished its history and traditions and various cultural treasures have been rooted from the Edo Period such as local festivals, long-established shops and other attractions.

To invite you to these attractive cultures of Chuo City, we have proceeded with "Machikado Museum Project" joined by 29 shops and museums and we have shown you a wide variety of the local cultural treasures. Each museum and shop has a unique way of displaying cultures and techniques such as showcases of traditional crafts in small and long-established shops, displays of history and manufacturing of Japanese companies and displays of "Mikoshi"-portable shrine for local festivals. You can take a look at the cultural treasures of Chuo City through these exhibitions.
"Come and enjoy the small wonders of this fascinating Chuo City!"
